

Sample Logic Model

INPUTS OR RESOURCES	ACTIVITIES	OUTPUTS	SHORT-TERM OUTCOMES	INTERMEDIATE OUTCOMES	LONG-TERM OUTCOMES
Resources available to the program that allow and support service delivery, including money, staff, volunteers, clients, materials, or equipment	The methods of service delivery carried out by staff	The product delivered or unit of service provided, usually described numerically, such as number of people served or number of hours of service delivered	The first changes that occur for the individuals, families, organizations, or community as a result of the program	The subsequent benefit for people during or after their involvement in a program	The eventual impact on individuals, families, organizations, or community for which the program is accountable
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • People: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Project Manager ○ TA Coordinator ○ Evaluation Consultant • $200,000 in financial assistance • Training facility • Capacity building library 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Training • One-on-one technical assistance (TA) • Financial assistance sub-awards 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • 10 hours of training per organization • 40 hours of TA per organization • 18 sub-awards ranging from $10,000–$25,000 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Organizations gain new knowledge about best practices in nonprofit management • Organizations obtain new equipment or infrastructure 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Organizations implement new practices in nonprofit management, or improve existing practices • Organizations use new equipment and infrastructure to manage their operations 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Organizations serve more people • Organization’s services are more effective

This table has six columns and three rows. The table should be read from left to right and from top to bottom. The first row is a header row, reading “Inputs or Resources,” “Activities,” “Outputs,” “Short-Term Outcomes,” “Intermediate Outcomes,” and “Long-Term Outcomes.” The second row reads “Resources available to the program that allow and support service delivery, including money, staff, volunteers, clients, materials, or equipment,” “The methods of service delivery carried out by staff,” “The product delivered or unit of service provided, usually described numerically, such as the number of people served or number of hours of service delivered,” “The first changes that occur for the individuals, families, organizations, or community as a result of the program,” “The subsequent benefit for people during or after their involvement in a program,” and “The eventual impact on individuals, families, organizations, or community for which the program is accountable.” The third row contains sample data for each category.