Police Bust Virginia Sextin Students might face felony charges for sexting More Than 100 Teens

April 5, 2014 By LIZ FIELDS via WORLD NEWS

Jessica Logan

In July 2008, Jessica Logan, 18, committed suicide in her closet after months of alleged abuse from her Ohio classmates. Logan's exboyfriend forwarded nude picture to hundreds of other high school girls, many of whom allegedly harassed Logan at school, calling her a "slut" and "whore." Logan's mother claims her daughter's suicide occurred when the harassment became unbearable.

Jessica's parents sued her school, the city of Montgomery, Ohio, and several students they believe were involved for unspecified monetary damages. The suit accuses the school and the Montgomery police of not doing enough to keep their daughter from being bullied and harassed after the nude photos of her were widely viewed.

Questions and Answers from NetSmartz* Workshop

Many youth think and insist that anything that they want to do with their bodies and their phones is their business. Youth who own cell phones enjoy the feeling of privacy and freedom away from their parents or guardians. But when they also feel confidence and entitlement over their bodies, it's easy to understand why 1 in 5 teens (13-19) have sent a sexually suggestive image or message. However, when youth engage in "sexting," the sending or posting of nude or partially nude images of minors, the law takes a very different view.

Help your children avoid the potential life consequences of sexting by learning more about the issue and talking to your children before they put themselves in a compromising position.

Q: Why do youth sext?

A: Youth sext for a multitude of reasons such as pressure from friends, trying to impress a crush, and responding to a sexual text message; some willingly send nude photos of themselves to a boyfriend or girtfriend. Most of these decisions are made without foresight of how these sexually explicit images and messages could affect their futures. It's important for parents and guardians to understand that as technically astute as their children are, they often don't think about the implications of how quickly digital information can spread via cell phone and the Internet.

Q: What are the consequences of sexting?

A: Youth who take sexual images of themselves may be charged with the production of child pornography, and if they send the images to a friend, distribution. The person who receives these images may be charged with the possession of child pornography, and if they forward them, distribution. Consequences may range from fines and community service to jail time or inclusion on a sex offender registry. However, legal consequences are not the only outcomes that children face; it is also important to take the social and psychological impacts of sexting into account.

THINK ABOUT THE CONSEQUENCES

of taking, sending, or forwarding a sexual picture of someone else, even if it's of you. You could get kicked off of sports teams, face humiliation, lose educational opportunities, and even face a police investigation.

you to send a sexual picture, don't give in and talk to an adult you trust. Remember that anyone who tries to get you to do something you are uncomfortable with is probably not trustworthy.
